Sedona Springs, Arizona

Situated in a unique geological area that has mesmerized tourists for decades in the Upper Sonoran Desert of northern Arizona, Sedona is blessed with mild winters and summers, plenty of sunshine and clean air. Considered superior to many national parks, this community reflects the beauty and harmony of the natural surroundings, creating opportunities for a wide variety of outdoor activities, including hiking, fishing, mountain biking, horseback riding, jeep adventures, or exploring American Indian ruins. For an excellent day trip, drive 100 miles northwest to visit the Grand Canyon, one of North America's greatest natural treasures. Back at the resort, unwind in your whirlpool tub or curl up by the crackling fire. Play a round of golf, a game of tennis, or explore the world class dining and shopping opportunities that make Sedona the ultimate retreat. 2-bedroom unit, 6 person maximum occupancy. Exact date TBD, mutually agreeable.
